

Evaluation

My English level was good in high school because I took more English courses and had the motivation to learn the language. I used to write more texts and give them to my teacher for correction, especially during my Baccalaureate year. However, after that year, I encountered difficulties in my studies, which made me lose interest in the language. As a result, my English level deteriorated.

During my first degree at ETS, I studied English for only one semester, which was not enough to improve my level and confidence in the language. However, over the two years at ENSET, I felt a change in my level, especially in the first semester where we studied and reviewed grammar rules, as well as paragraph writing. Our teacher also gave us the opportunity to present a five-minute topic, which was very interesting for me as it was the first time I presented a topic in English in front of an audience. This motivated me to improve my level in the language.

We also studied English in the second semester, where I improved my grammar and writing skills, such as writing an argumentative text. We also had the opportunity to work in groups on a topic and learn a new technology, namely Prezi presentation. In the second year, I improved other aspects of my level, such as listening and reading, and learned important things about LinkedIn, CV, and cover letter to find an internship or job after graduation, as well as recruitment websites, and how to make vlog videos and montages.

In two years, I learned a lot of things that allowed me to improve my level in English. However, currently, I have a communication problem. Even though I have ideas about a topic, when my colleagues and our teacher discuss it, I like to talk and give my point of view, but I find it difficult to interact with them due to my lack of confidence and limited vocabulary, which makes me afraid of getting stuck.

I like Mr. Abderrahim CHALFAOUAT's teaching method that allows us to speak by launching a topic and giving students the opportunity to speak. However, I have difficulties and would like another teaching method, for example, by giving us a period of 2 or 3 minutes to prepare our intervention and requiring us to speak, which would help us express our point of view and participate more in class.

In conclusion, my level has changed compared to before these two years, and I would like to thank our teacher for his effort, understanding, and approachability to the students. I also thank him for understanding my situation when I missed the third semester and accepting my request.
